

In 2024, the PAT community demonstrated their commitment to evidence-informed decisions to improve teaching and learning across Australia and beyond.

Gathering the evidence

This year, students completed a record number of PAT Adaptive assessments as more schools began their adaptive testing journey. Adaptive assessments provide a more engaging and accessible experience for students and more accurate results for teachers.

Including:

3.2m+

PAT Adaptive assessments

Busiest day

31 October

Supporting next steps

Educators put their results into practice with help from the PAT Teaching Resources Centre.

21.7k+ educators

accessed the PAT Teaching Resources Centre

Most popular resources:

The perennial favourite 'Newman's error analysis'.

Busiest month:

February

Developing teachers' capabilities

Thank you for spending time with us throughout 2024. We hope you enjoyed our diverse range of events and that our team of experts supported you in your evidence-informed decision making and practice.

550 educators

attended an Understanding PAT workshop. Plus many more attended private workshops in their schools or systems!

1,165 educators

registered for free webinar sessions

Most popular session:

Using PAT data to target, group and identify student learning

Finding out more

The ACER team were excited to launch their new help centre to provide easier access to support articles and useful information for administering assessments and accessing reports.

90k+ views

of PAT articles

Most popular article:

PAT scales and achievement bands